HOUSE PASSES BILL REPEALING TAXES ON OLEO

Votes to End Federal Levies After Bitter Fight;
Senate Sent Legislation

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — The House today passed a bill to repeal all Federal margarine taxes — after squabbling for three hours over what shape a package of oleo should take.

The vote was 260-106. The bill, which would repeal laws that have been on the books for 62 years, now goes to the Senate.

But even if the Senate and President Truman approve the bill, many a housewife still won't be able to buy her margarine already colored.

It's against the law to sell colored oleo in these states:

California, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

SOME OTHER states impose special licenses or taxes on oleo.

The Federal taxes which the bill passed today would repeal are:

Ten cents a pound on colored oleo; 14 cent a pound on uncolored; $600 a year tax on manufacturers; $480 on wholesalers of colored oleo; $200 on wholesalers of the uncolored product; $48 on retailers of colored oleo; $6 on retailers of uncolored.

Amendment after amendment was brought up today by Congressmen from dairy states. But each time they were beaten.

The chief argument came over this issue:

Should oleomargarine makers be forced to put their product in triangular or circular packs to keep it from being confused with butter?

THE FINAL ANSWER was no. Triangular oleo was beaten 114 to 83. Round oleo went down, 119 to 87.

Then the House battened down, 129 to 72, a proposal by Rep. August H. Andersen (R-Minn.) to prohibit altogether the sale of colored oleo.

This cleared the way for the vote on the repeal measure itself.

On the final roll call, the repeal forces mustered 118 Republican votes, 10 Democratic and 2 American Laborites. Voting against were 92 Republicans and 14 Democrats.

This will show you how divided party lines were:

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has said he favors repeal of oleo taxes. Yet his presidential campaign manager, Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) voted no today.

Council Committee To Discuss Proposal For Traffic Switch

Members of borough council's police committee will meet in borough hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night to discuss changing the flow of traffic on Charlotte street, from South to Beech streets, to northbound only.

The move was prompted by recent accidents on the narrow thoroughfare, and agreement by the majority of businessmen along Charlotte street that either parking should be banned or one-way traffic should be the rule.

Although Charlotte street is a State highway, borough officials have been told that the change can be made, upon recommendation of borough council and approval by the State.

THE CHARLOTTE street situation is only part of an over-all traffic survey being made jointly by the police committee, Burgess William A. Griffith and Chief of Police James A. Laughhead, with the aid of local automobile clubs and State highway department engineers.

The survey includes the area between Manatony and Adams streets and South and Beech streets. If a report on the traffic survey is made tomorrow night, it is expected to include recommendations that other streets be made one way also, and that left-hand turns be forbidden at one or more of Pottstown's busiest intersections.

THE WEATHER
For Eastern Pennsylvania: Considerable cloudiness, cool, a few showers likely today; partly cloudy with some frost likely tonight. Partly cloudy and continued cool tomorrow.

Rail Unions Set May 11 For Nation-Wide Strike

CHICAGO April 28 (AP) — Two big rail unions representing the firemen and engineers and the switchmen called a nation-wide strike today for May 11, but a third union—the engineers—did not join in the strike call.

A strike by the two unions alone could paralyze the nation's railroad transportation system.

However, the National Railway Mediation board intervened immediately in an eleventh hour attempt to sidetrack the strike. It called representatives of the railroads and unions involved to meet with board members in Chicago tomorrow.

J. P. Shields, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said his union has "not made up its mind if and when a strike date will be set."

All three operating unions broke off wage talks with representatives of the nation's railroads last night. They announced formally that a strike call would be issued at 10:30 (Pottstown time) today.

Union Heads Read Strike Order

Presidents of three big railroad unions conferred in Chicago yesterday on the nation-wide strike by two of the unions on May 11. Looking on as Alvanley Johnston (right), head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, reads the strike order are A. J. Glover (left), president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The engineers did not join in the strike call immediately.

TRUSTEES READY PENSION PLAN

Lewis, Bridges Prepare Miners' Fund Despite Threat of Court Action

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — John L. Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH) today began getting things ready to pay elderly coal miners their $100-a-month pensions if the courts don't prevent.

Lewis and Bridges, two of the pension fund trustees, announced: 1. The appointment of an administrator (Lewis).

2. The appointment of a director, Miss Josephine Roche, (associate of Lewis).

3. That the paper work will require "several weeks." No pensions before that.

Lewis and Bridges went this far in the face of a suit by a coal operator, Ezra Van Horn, who is the third pension fund trustee. Van Horn says they can't go ahead without his approval, and he hasn't given it. He wants the court to make Lewis and Bridges personally liable if they start the money flowing under their plan.

The Lewis-Bridges plan calls for payments to miners of 62 or older with 20 years' service and retired after May 29, 1946.

Hilldring Is Named As Palestine Aide

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall today named former assistant secretary John H. Hilldring from private life to take charge of American policy on the rapidly darkening Palestine situation.

The State department announced that Hilldring would be a special assistant to Marshall "for Palestine affairs."

His appointment may fore-shadow recent efforts by the American government to obtain a peaceful solution of the Jewish-Arab fight over the Holy Land.

Hilldring held a similar responsibility the past Fall and was generally identified at that time with strong American support for the Palestine partition plan.

Zionist leaders generally favored his plan to carve a separate Jewish state in Palestine, but Arab leaders rejected it.

Four years ago, in seeking to avoid a Jewish fight between Jews and Arabs, the United States finally moved to solve the partition plan indefinitely and substitute a combination of trusteeship and trusteeship.

There was no indication here whether Marshall's recall of Hilldring signified any change in this policy.

Italians Here to Aid Victory Fete Overseas

Pottstown area Italian-Americans put their hearts into letters home, urging democratic victory in the recent elections. Now, as elated as the Italians themselves over the outcome, ten local families, all immigrants from the same town, are going to help finance the victory celebration there.

Jerry Ottaviano, of 441 Cherry street, a foreman at the Bethlehem Steel plant and president of the Maria Assunta Lodge, said he will collect donations from the families before May 10 and mail them by air so the contributions may reach Italy by May 19 when the celebration takes place.

The celebration, taking three days, is held annually in the little town of Fresagiarino, populated by 2,200, 70 miles from Rome, from where all the families originally hail.

The affair, unique with that town, honors the village's patron saint, Madama Grandio. Each year the entire population forms in a procession and makes an all-day pilgrimage to the saint's shrine. The next day they return and the following day there is a band concert and fireworks.

THIS YEAR, however, the feast will be in special celebration of the election victory over the Communists.

During the war the event was not held.

LADIES, THE LAW'S ON YOUR SIDE --

Make Hubby Help With Spring Work

By FRANK DOSTAL (Mercury Staff Writer)
passed but never repealed, this ordinance might bring a lady husband a fine ranging from $3 to $20. All a wife has to do to get her cellar cleaned is to call the burgess or the nearest policeman.

Yesterday, a survey showed there are many such laws still on the borough's books, covering everything from spitting on the sidewalks to storing more than 100 pounds of gunpowder in your home.

FOR INSTANCE, although Pottstown is an industrial city, it is "not lawful to build, or cause to be built, any stack, rack, or heap, of hay, straw, etc., otherwise than in a suitable building, so as to endanger a building or buildings by fire."

According to the record the borough fathers passed that one in 1863 over a few flaming classes of ale in the public house of A. Gildin.

A haystack next to your house within the borough limits could cost you a cool $500 fine.

Like to whittle? Just be careful where you toss your shavings.

MOTHERS START FUND CAMPAIGN FOR PLAYGROUND

Seventh Warders, Given
Use of Lot, to Equip It
To Keep Tots Off Streets

By HARRY TOLAND (Mercury Staff Writer)

The Seventh ward, which has never had a playground, is going to get one through the sheer determination of the mothers in the ward.

Horrified by two accidents the past Summer when two children playing on the street, were hit by cars, the ward mothers resolved they would get a safe place where their children could play.

Last night at a meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn, 718 Walnut street, they took the first steps to make their dream come true.

The situation that confronts them now is this: They have a lot for the playground, but they must have funds to equip it for children of all ages up to 16.

The lot, a 150 by 130 foot tract at Beech and Sheridan streets, was turned over to the residents of the ward with no strings attached by the Recreation commission at the commission's last meeting. Originally it was owned by the school district.

But the commission told the Seventh warders that it regretted that it had no funds available for outfitting the playground.

MRS. JOSEPH YOHN, 767 Walnut street, who has pushed the idea from the beginning, organized children of the area into cleanup squads and removed stones and broken glass from the sloping lot as soon as the commission approval was granted.

She has gone around to see parents and reports that every mother on Lincoln avenue, Walnut, Beech and Sheridan streets in the ward has pledged full support.

Last night Mrs. Yohn and 23 other mothers drafted plans for getting funds which will be used to buy materials for swings, slides, see-saws, sand boxes and the score of other playground necessities.

The men of the neighborhood will make everything needed, she said. They only need the materials or the money to buy them.

THE MOTHERS decided last night to hold a block festival and a pie and cake sale in the near future to raise money. But contributions are needed, Mrs. Yohn said. They may be sent either to her or Mrs. Dunn.

The playground has no name. The group last night agreed to sponsor a contest that would give it one.

Every boy or girl in the Seventh ward not over 16 years old may enter the contest. A prize worth $5, appropriate to the age and sex of the winner, will be given. Although the judges have not yet been picked, they will not be Seventh warders.

SEVERAL YOUNGSTERS at the rally last night were even more enthusiastic.

Robins Find Sunny South Was Never Like This

The weather these days is enough to frost the gizzard of even the hardest robin and if they could read the prediction below today and tomorrow they would probably head for Hialeah in droves.

Yesterday, with its drizzles in the morning and 40-degree temperatures almost throughout, set them quivering in their nests.

Today will probably set their beaks on edge with the predicted cooler, cloudy and frost tonight and their breasts will likely turn blue tomorrow when even cooler and cloudy is forecast.

STASSEN'S EDGE HEAVY IN COUNTY

Gets 9649 Write-In Votes,
Nearly as Many as Other Candidates Combined

NORRISTOWN, April 28—Final returns of Montgomery county's primary election showed today that Harold E. Stassen pulled 9649 write-in votes for presidential candidate, while the combined total of his three closest competitors was 9716 votes.

Yesterday's primary could draw only 25 percent of the registered Republican voters and 14 percent of the Democratic adherents.

In addition to the size of Stassen's plurality, the primary had only one surprise, and this was in the Democratic column.

R. M. SMITH was opposing two candidates for delegate to the national convention from the third district, which includes Pottstown. Although his opponents were backed by the county Democratic organization, the totals were Dr. J. Elmer Porter, Pottstown, 2639; T. Durbin, 2223, and Smith, 1955.

In the GOP ranks, 21,913 of the 21,677 voters went to the trouble of writing-in the names of presidential candidates. The totals were Stassen, 9649; Thomas E. Dewey, 5419; Robert A. Taft, 2881; Edward Martin, 1886; Arthur H. Vandenberg, 1376; Dwight D. Eisenhower, 371; Douglas MacArthur, 276, and Joseph W. Martin, 87 votes.

Among the less-than-serious Republican voters, President Truman received 342 votes while Henry A. Wallace netted an even 100.

For GOP district delegates, a few names were written in. For example, J. and J. Cooke pulled 30,471 and 30,452 votes respectively, while their

New Firm to Reopen Pipe Products Plant

Tough Problem to Beat

One large bass drum and one small trunk pose transportation problems for bass drummer Carl Watkins, of the Pottstown Senior High school band. Watkins resorts to the use of his "tub-thumper" to make the two meet in time for him to travel tomorrow to the music competitions at Oil City.

After a shutdown of more than six months, the Pottstown Pipe Products company will open its doors again. Victor de Journo, of Emmaus, former manager and now president and general manager, yesterday promised:

"We'll have production under way by May 5."

A strike closed the plant on Oct. 9, 1947, and two months later negotiations were pronounced a failure. The past Feb. 27, 228,000 feet of pipe were sold for an estimated $67,000, and it seemed that the days of Pottstown Pipe Products definitely were at an end.

The plant itself was scheduled to be auctioned off by an April 15 deadline, but efforts of men interested in keeping the company in the borough finally were successful.

A NEW CORPORATION, Pottstown Pipe Products Inc., will be formed, the papers being drawn up by Attorney Carroll L. Rutter, Pottstown attorney.

Elmer H. Young and Edwin S. Orr, two of the founders of the concern in 1922, will be chairman of the board and treasurer, respectively. Both have announced they will serve without pay in the interest of expanding Pottstown's industry.

To finance the plant, which will employ 25 to 30 persons at first, with expansion to a possible 100 anticipated, by De Journo, a first mortgage bond issue of $100,000, paying 5 percent, will be floated.

Already, approximately $45,000 of that amount has been subscribed. J. E. Ludwig, of the automobile firm of Krause and Ludwig, said bond purchases could be made from him.

In addition, common stock in the amount of $40,000 will be issued to help finance the industrial undertaking. That amount already has been underwritten.

Senior Students Jump Gun, Start Work in Chosen Field

Twenty-six Pottstown Senior High school boys and girls, scheduled to be graduated on June 10, already are at work in their chosen fields, it was learned yesterday.

This group, including nine boys in the Vocational department and 17 girls in the commercial department, were able to complete their required work by April 20. By leaving their classes they were released from school to start their chosen careers a little early.

Securing permission to start work was no simple matter. First, the students had to show that the job was in the field for which they were preparing, and that the work they wanted to do would require an application of the training received in high school.

Both Harry L. Smith, Senior High school principal, and the students' parents, had to approve the applications to begin work, and the boys and girls could not start before April 20.

IN SOME CASES, the practical experience was substituted for the last few weeks of study, when "the student's employment requires an application of subject matter required for graduation."

Above all, the young men and women who wanted to start their careers one jump ahead of their classmates, had to rank scholastically high.

In this group were the following boys in the vocational department, employed as follows:

Retail Sales Soar As Merchants Mark Profit-Sharing Day

Neither a steady drizzle in the morning nor sub-normal temperatures throughout the day could keep Pottstown area shoppers from taking advantage of yesterday's Profit-Sharing Day in 67 local stores, participating merchants reported last night.

Warren F. DeLong, chairman of the Pottstown bureau group sponsoring the event, asserted that while sales generally were somewhat lower than those of 1947's Spring Profit-Sharing Day, "they were really amazing considering the weather."

Jack Hoffman, manager of the New York Department store, said, "It was all we could do to handle the morning's business," and declared that for his store at least the total volume was expected to surpass the April 1947 mark.

Merchants agreed that the crowds declined in the afternoon but then reappeared in the late afternoon and early evening.

DeLong said that although bad weather undoubtedly kept some shoppers away from the event, his group would not break its tradition of one-day policy by extending the sale.

Pottstown's Traffic Ills

THE eighth wonder of the world is the person who is elected to a public office, then overnight becomes an expert.
We have them right here in Pottstown. Just because some men were elected to borough council, they have decided they know everything about traffic control.
So now they plan to make a state highway a one-way street. They're going to eliminate left turns at High and Hanover street. Then they're going to eliminate left turns at High and Charlotte streets.
Soon they'll eliminate traffic entirely. Then the community will die.

Pottstown had a couple of traffic surveys made here by traffic experts. The experts were employed by national organizations. They had studied traffic control, had undergone practical experience before attempting to study traffic ill.

These traffic "doctors" made expert diagnosis of Pottstown's traffic ailments. Then they wrote out "prescriptions" for the cure.

But Pottstown's present borough council seems to prefer POW-WOW quacks!
Instead of relying on experts' advice, they're about to attempt a hit-or-miss system. Businessman and resident are not considered. Their whims, the opinion of men who don't even drive a car, are likely to become law!
No wonder traffic is snarled so badly in Pottstown!

And what of the poor businessman who has all his capital invested in an enterprise that may flop because no traffic will pass his door?

What of the present day trend that drives traffic AWAY from the business section because of parking costs, or no parking spaces at all?

DOESN'T THE BUSINESSMAN WHOSE LIVELIHOOD DEPENDS ON TRAFFIC HAVE A CHANCE?

All parties should be heard. Then the word of traffic experts should be employed.
Let's take the "hick" out of traffic!

The Others Are Moving In

PEOPLE who attach significance to any deviation from normal in the behavior of birds and animals may see more than mere coincidence in three separate but peculiarly associated incidents. In Viroqua, Wis., Harvey Cox found a near-sighted horse in his parlor. The horse was said to have been following a woman, who, becoming frightened at the idea of being followed by a horse, even a near-sighted horse, fled into Cox's home.

In Concord, N. H., at the same time, Mrs. Sophie Ericson opened a damper and found woodchucks in her chimney. In Chicago, a mother robin built a nest atop a lighting fixture in the front door of the Stuart Grau home, compelling the Grau family to use the back door.

We admit that when a horse behaves the way the Viroqua horse did, the simplest way to pass it off is to say he is near-sighted, even if it isn't much of a compliment to the woman he was following. But we believe there was more to it than that. The horse, the woodchucks and the robins each had plainly but one objective and, strangely enough, the same objective. They were trying to move in with somebody.

The robins got to the front door and the ducks got as far as the chimney. The horse got clear inside, and if the unknown woman hadn't raised such a ruckus he might have done all right. We don't claim to be able to explain this thing. Feelings of insecurity, perhaps, brought on by the times, what with the housing shortage and all. But we know the beginning of a trend when we see one, and as a matter of fact there's a pigeon outside our office window at this instant, giving the place a speculative look.

Something for the Irate

CERTAIN errors in the known methods of counting fish, as described by a Canadian zoologist at Dalhousie university, ought to pacify some people. One method is to poison the lake and count the dead fish. Another is to count the catch during the fishing season. Another is to catch fish, mark them, throw them back, and then catch more fish later on and record the proportion of marked to unmarked fish.

The people who ought to be mollified by this report are those who get pretty mad once every 10 years, as having to interrupt their most important work of the day, answer the door bell and stand there and answer a lot of questions for the census taker. anyhow, they aren't pacified, and they aren't marked and thrown back. Maybe it's not much, but it's something.

PUNKIN CORNERS, April 28.
Dear Sir in Brother.

Wal, I see by The Mercury where the voters stayed away from the polls in droves. Over in Korea an election was postponed because of an eclipse of the sun. In Pennsylvania Harold Stassen eclipsed the native son, Edward Marlin.

At that election and an eclipse of the sun on the same day should be all right for darkhorse candidates. That would be ideal weather for them.
And say, in another famous election Onkel (Joe Stalin failed to win Italy. He still may get the Italian boot! Hopin' you air the same.

Parking Order Flouted

To the Editor: It's a funny thing that so many cars are parked in front of the old opera house on King street that you can hardly see the signs that say "No Parking, by order of the Police department."

Pottstown PUZZLED

Democratic? He Wonders!

To the Editor: Once again the primary election, which should be the most important, is over, and a miserable 12 percent of Pottstown's voters have trooped to the polls, to vote "Ja" for the choices their bosses have made for them. What a system!

We call ourselves a democracy, yet the people, in this State at least, have not the slightest voice in deciding who shall represent them in the councils of their party, of their State or of their Congress. And no matter whose name is written in on the most ballots, "our" delegates to the national conventions will vote according to the dictates of the bosses.

We complain because in Russia there is only one party, only one state, and the people have only the choice of approving the Communist nominee.

We are so blind to our own system of elections that we blithely talk of democracy, prate of freedom and proclaim our liberty to the skies — when in reality we have little more real choice of freedom or of effective expression than the poor Russians!

Nothing will be done about it, of course. This Summer there will be the usual mud-slinging and the oratory, and in November we'll elect Tweedledum or Tweedledee to the presidency.

Pleas for Safer Street

To the Editor: Why don't they get together and make a safer street for grown-ups and little children who travel Charlotte street.

The other day a child of four was garly on her way to get into her dancing shoes, but, alas, she was hurt that day.

Now something must be done to make it a safer street, as accidents happened every hour last Winter on icy Charlotte street.

I called up three times on the 'phone one day to the City hall not far away to ask them to put cinders on the street, as the cars crashed together on Charlotte street.

We don't want to hurt the business end, but accidents to children must surely end. So get together and don't delay, by taking the parking off this street today!

'Do Nothing' Policy on Housing

To the Editor: This is for "housing shortage."

What is the matter with the Red Cross? What is the matter with the churches? What is the matter with the Salvation Army?

What are the officers-of-borough hall thinking about or waiting for when they sit by and do nothing for the people in need of homes.

Many families are separated because of the housing shortage, but it is not their fault. Why don't these four organizations get together and see that these families have homes. They deserve them. Especially if they have lived here all their lives.

Why don't these organizations get together and form a committee requesting all vacant apartments or homes to be rented until this shortage is over. What is the difference whether these families are forced out due to fire, floods, or housing shortage, or even high priced rentals?

Please do something before there is crime and murder or child delinquency. Broken-up homes are not good whether the cause is housing shortage or divorce. A lot of good can be done if you all get together and see that the others have a chance to live. You will never regret it. I have seen several nice families that the housing shortage has already affected and it does not look good. I wonder who will be the first to try to help them?

Meat or Shoe Leather?

To the Editor: They say that during the war we may have been eating horse meat.

I had a piece of meat the other night that was too tough even for horse meat. My neighborhood grocer, who doubles as a butcher, sold me the choice cut which I thought was good beef. It couldn't eat it but at first I thought that maybe I hadn't prepared it correctly. Then I tried to feed it to the dog.

When he turned it down, you know it must have been tough.
If I wanted to buy shoe leather, there is a shoemaker just up the street. I WANT meat from the butcher.

Meter Space Goes Begging

To the Editor: Didn't the borough make a mistake when it installed nickel meters along King street, especially east of Evans street and west of York street? Anyone with a nickel to spend for a few minutes parking can almost have his choice of the spots in these areas during the day.

Wouldn't it be better to have penny meters along King and Hanover streets? Then if there were any lost pennies it would be a good thing to find them. I heard that there isn't a parking spot block from High street on any Saturday night.

Reds Press Expansion But Stand for Peace

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

SOVIET-CONTROLLED newspapers in Moscow and Berlin are predicting that there will be no war now.

"This should not engender feelings of complacency among the armed forces," adds the Soviet army paper Red Star.

"There will be no political reckoning," says the fifth column editors in Berlin.

Which, combined, says Russia will continue to back political pressures with military power to promote her campaign of conquest through world revolution.

This is something for America to bear in mind as signs appear that the defensive steps we are taking may stave off World War III.

THE COMMUNISTS in Moscow obviously will not deliberately provoke a war as long as expansion still is possible by other means. They may be working on the theory that all they need to do is keep us afraid of war. By that they force us to dissipate our resources in military preparedness and hope to soften us up for economic collapse and revolution.

There is no use kidding ourselves that we can carry on the conflict with Russia, even in its present form, without feeling numerous shocks. It has already reached the point where there is practically no dividing line between foreign and domestic affairs.

The introduction to an Associated Press story from Washington recently said "The nation's 'stop Russia' program kept getting involved today in almost everything Congress discussed."

Money for education, for dams, for agricultural development; reductions in taxes; social programs. Everything has to be considered in its relation to our expenditures for defense and world security.

Oil and iron reserves, and destruction of the land through intensified farm production for export, become increasingly important problems.

SOCIAL PRESSURES are provoked. There is increasing schism between the elements of left and right here at home. Minorities seek to use the need for their co-operation in the national program as a lever to maintain special objectives.

Just as the United States is forced to insure itself against even the outside chances of war, so must the great cities devote their attention to safety programs. Industry must devote part of its energy to developments of defenses against attack.

In other words, the whole community is forced into wasteful activity and disunity by threats against which it cannot afford not to prepare, yet which may prove to be nothing but threats.

This makes military preparedness only one half of the required program, at home as well as in Europe. Without complementary attention to the economic and social structure, the ladder to peace will have only one leg to stand on.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

KIRK P. 47, is head waiter in a popular Chicago restaurant.

A few Sundays ago we were having dinner at Kirk's restaurant, with some relatives from Indiana.

One of the latter had a birthday, and he was being teased about the fact that he was a bachelor.

When the dessert course was served, Kirk came in with cake on which two lighted candles were shining.

He presented the cake to the member of our party who had the birthday, and then led the singing of "Happy Birthday to You," while the other diners generously chimed in.

This visitor from Indiana was surprised to such an extent, he was speechless. In fact, all of those at our table were mystified. We didn't know how Kirk had learned about the birthday.

THEN OUR waitress quietly informed us that she had overheard our chatter, and had thus learned of the birthday guest at our table.

So she quickly passed the information along to Kirk, who then prepared the birthday cake, and served it with the compliments of the restaurant.

This is the kind of tact which builds lasting good will and in the long run keeps business firms out of the red ink. Too many people in this world grudgingly do their minimum of work but no more.

It is refreshing to find a man or woman who will do more than he is paid for or will render additional services and courtesies beyond those which are expected.

Such behavior is valued far in excess of its financial cost. Even this birthday cake episode has caused several interesting after effects.

For not only did several diners at neighboring tables praise Kirk for his thoughtfulness and courtesy, but we commended him to the owner of the restaurant.

The owner had never known that Kirk was accustomed to doing such tactful things. Our compliments about Kirk, therefore, caused his boss to view him in a new light.

A few weeks later Kirk also had a birthday. The waitresses presented him with a cake. His boss happened in, and wanted to know what all the commotion was about.

One of the waitresses informed him, whereupon he made out a check for $25 and presented it to Kirk. The latter was overcome with emotion, and tears showed in his eyes.

The girls told me later that this was the first celebration in Kirk's honor in the 29 years he had worked in this restaurant. Moreover, it was the first present his boss had ever given him.

Benjamin Franklin once said: "As we must account for every idle word, so we must for every idle silence."

Too many of us are inclined to view good things without giving a word of commendation.

We let good work and unselfish service go unwarded, thus indirectly discouraging the folks who are trying to do more than their expected quota.

How many of us have complimented anybody in the past 24 hours? It is shocking how introverted and shut-in we are, when wives and children, office associates and neighbors are around us every day, doing worthy deeds that should be praised.

If you haven't joined the COMPLIMENT CLUB, write for the material at once enclosing a 3c stamped envelope, plus a dime.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, April 28—A syndicated eastern scribe who has a reputation for printing ANYTHING (especially if it's inaccurate) recently referred to one Constance Raft around New York, as "George Raft's daughter."

Making her 8th Hollywood boner in one week, according to our perusal. George Raft has NO daughter. George says he has a big yen to meet up with Greer Garson though. And that strikes us as a rather good idea — for reasons we won't divulge at the moment.

Despite the Petrillo ban (which many think has already been settled sub-rosa), Decca is tossing a recording contract at Paul Willard the unique song-stylist and soon to-be-movie actor we told you about.

A group of Hollywood celebs, always ready to help, flew to Laramie, Wyoming, on a few hours notice yesterday. They'll stage a benefit for funds to rehabilitate that fire-ravaged city whose business life was wiped out last week.

Among them are George Murphy, Alan Young, Chico Marx, Eddie Bracken, Martha Stewart, William Holden.

EVIE JOHNSON's tale of what happened to Van before he was rushed to the hospital is a real horror story. Perry Como here to do another picture is paying all expenses involved with the moving of the cast and band of his radio show to Hollywood while he's movie-making. He can afford it. He only made $860,000 last year! It's o. k. with us. Come always sings us into a coma! Overheard in the Tally-ho's Pub Room, "If the Duke and Duchess of Windsor have a fight, will Wally retain the title?"

BARGAIN DEPT.—Just in case you're interested: The War Assets Administration is about to sell the following: Two lakes in South Dakota; 1,000,000 pairs of dice(!); 500,000 sets of upper and lower dent plates, and best of all, dear readers, 53,000 barrels of feast!

Pat O'Brien will be in St. Louis May 8th to lead the Founder's Day Parade with the Mayor. Five Los Angeles independent radio stations are for sale, price from $250,000 to $750,000 (If you don't know what to do with your money—just read this column!) June Allyson and Dick Powell have changed their minds about adopting a baby: And for a good reason. June has discovered that she's going to be a Momma herself!

COLUMBIA WILL test crooner Hal Winters next week. John Sutton is giving such a good performance in "The Three Musketeers" that he is about to be signed to a long term contract with Metro. People around here who know, predict that Claudette Colbert will really make a name for herself as a painter before the year is out. We know how seriously she toils at her canvases — and she jumped from sketching right to portrait painting. Her portrait of Mrs. Garr Cooper — and also the one she did of Mary Benny are two worth seeing, believe us!

JOBS UPON A TIME

Known primarily as a gifted party giver, Elsa Maxwell was born in Keokuk, Ia., and was educated in a San Francisco private school, the University of California and the Sorbonne, Paris. She has lived in Paris, London and Italy, and lectured extensively in the United States. Miss Maxwell is also a song writer with 80 published compositions, has organized the layout of a golf course, motor boat races, built a Monte Carlo beach club, an hotel and restaurant. She has appeared in motion pictures, written many magazine articles, has a syndicated newspaper column, and is a radio star — a full life indeed!

Bill Robinson, talented dancer and actor of the stage and screen, left home at the age of eight and worked in a racing stable in Washington, D. C. Bill started dancing when he was five and earned money after hours at the stable dancing in beer gardens. In 1908 Bill teamed with another in a dance act, and after the team dissolved he did a "single" act, becoming a vaudeville headliner and star of Negro musical reviews. He is considered one of the world's best tap dancers and has taught many to dance. His motion picture debut came in 1933 in "Short," and in 1935 Bill appeared in "The Little Colonel" with Shirley Temple.

COMPANY A LEAVES—Despite rain, hall and snow, Company A, Captain William E. Schuyler, departed yesterday morning for Mt. Gretna to the cheers of several thousand persons. The Guardsmen were escorted to the railroad station by Richards and Graham posts, GAR; the FOS of A camps and The Hill school cadets.

PHS PARADE — A patriotic demonstration was held by Pottstown Senior High school students. A street parade was followed by the burning in effigy of Spanish General Weyler and King Alfonso XIII. The torch was applied by Walter Landis. John B. Evans made an address.

HOUSECLEANING SETBACK — The war fever in Pottstown has given housecleaning a setback. The men have no time to beat carpets. They are busy talking war.

25 Years Ago

April 29, 1923

PITCHING STAR — Ray Moser, who will report May 1 to the Frederick, Md., team of the Blue Ridge Baseball league, will pitch today for the Pottstown AA team in a game with Catasaugus. "Pat" Kastle, of Linfield, will be on the receiving end for the locals. Moser has been making a fine record on the mound.

MILK PRICE RAISE — The price of milk has been raised to 13c per quart and 7 cents per pint. The raise is blamed on scarcity and the increased cost of farm labor.

FIREMEN ENTERTAIN — The Pottstown firemen were hosts to the county organization. A banquet was held in the armory with covers laid for 800 guests. An entertainment followed in the Grand Opera House. The committee included Clymer Missimer, H. Wesley Guldin, Ralph De Witt, John M. Bossert and Max Weitzenkorn.

10 Years Ago

April 29, 1938

RAPS COMMUNISTS — Communists were severely rapped by Lt. Col. Edward J. Meehan in an address before the Kiwanis club which observed the U. S.-Canada week. Speakers praised the friendly feeling existing between this country and Canada.

WOMEN'S CLUB — Mrs. James C. Wilke was re-elected president of the Women's club. Iva Warner spoke on old fashioned gardens and herbs.

PINCHOT RALLY — A rally in support of Gifford Pinchot to secure the Republican nomination for governor was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Hipple, Cedarville. Oscar R. Davidheiser was in charge. Committeemen Clyde R. Ingram was among those in attendance. Pinchot is being opposed by Judge Arthur James.

Giggles At the Great

LONG BEFORE "Of Thee I Sing," most citizens of this fair nation realized that in the political scene lay a gold mine of rich, uproarious humor. American politicians have helped build a great nation, but, let's face it, through the years of American politics, our lawmakers have jostled with each other at election times. And out of the tumult and shouting have come unforgettable contributions to our national humor.

Now we approach another Presidential campaign. It may be MacArthur. It may be Truman. It may be Eisenhower. But one thing we're sure of: There will be gags and political punchlines that will go into the files side by side with political humor which has come down from Lincoln's day — even from Jefferson's.

Let's examine some of the political punchlines of the past.

THE SCHOLARLY Woodrow Wilson

Wilson was a target for the quip-makers. Your dad and mine remember that Wilson was a man fond of being on the move; they recall his many trips to and from Paris after World War I. Somebody finally said of him: "Presidents may come and Presidents may go — but Woodrow Wilson does both!"

In Teddy Roosevelt's day, his Vice President was Charles W. Fairbanks, a victim of the traditional Vice President gags. One time Teddy went out on Long Island Sound with a submarine and ordered its submergence as a test. People everywhere protested his recklessness. One editorial writer summed up: "Yes, it certainly was stupidly reckless of Mr. Roosevelt to do this — and not take Mr. Fairbanks along with him!"

ALL OF US, of course, remember what political capital was made of Will Rogers' famous line when he was introduced to Calvin Coolidge: "I beg your pardon," said Will, as he leaned forward, "I didn't catch the name!"

In 1936, Franklin D. Roosevelt was riding high. The Republicans had captured only Maine and Vermont in a disastrous campaign. Clarence Buddington Kelland arose at a GOP dinner and said in introducing a speaker: "This is Mr. Henry P. Fletcher, just made chairman of the Republican National Convention. That somehow seems to me like taking on the job of janitor in a haunted house!"

AGAIN IN 1937, a political joke making the national rounds was one made by Mrs. Teddy Roosevelt. That was at the height of FDR's power and the Republican Mrs. Roosevelt, getting to her feet at a dinner, remarked wilyly: "I feel it only fair to tell you I belong to the Oyster Bay, or out-of-season Roosevelts!"

Grover Cleveland was President during a bitter depression. But Americans are a same people and it failed to dampen spirits in many quarters. A sample was a popular vaudeville gag of the era: "Cleveland is a great man and he has freed many Americans of their chains. Take me, for example, my watch chain and my wife's gold chain."

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Good Catch... Dog Offered...

ANGLERS — Mr. and Mrs. Fret Schwarzer, Ringing Rock Hill, pulled in a 35-pound devil fish (Monta Ray) when they sojourned at Sarasota, Fla., the other day. They were tickled with their catch because they used a baibless fish hook that was invented by a Pottsonian! S. Paul "Tosh" Seeders, Pottstown beer distributor who has been hospitalized in Philadelphia, was reported yesterday to be well on the road to recovery. . . . Bet you lads and lassies will be happy when Saturday arrives. That's when the income tax deductions are reduced. Your take-home pay after May 1 will be a lot bigger!

Speaking of taxes, an expert finding these findings on the new federal income tax reductions: People in the $6000 bracket get the smallest slice of the melon, if melon you want to call it—a 20 percent reduction. Best off is the guy in the $3000 bracket with a 47 percent cut. The $25,000 per annum earner is next best. His savings approximate a 35 percent slice. The $10,000-a-year man gets 27 percent. Here's a little oddity: Both the $15,000 gent and the $50,000 each get a 31 percent reduction.

5000-Vote Edge Accorded Stassen in Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, April 28 (AP) — Presidential candidate Harold E. Stassen rode a two-to-one Philadelphia lead to an approximate 5000-vote victory today in industrial Pennsylvania's Republican preferential primary.

The former Minnesota governor, fresh from delegate successes in agricultural Wisconsin and Nebraska, said at Trenton, N. J., the Pennsylvania result "may turn out to be a key event in the nomination."

With 739 of the state's 8262 precincts reported, and no prospect of substantial change until the official count is available, the totals were:

Stassen	74,289
Dewey	69,426
Martin	41,318
MacArthur	17,181
Taft	14,072
Vandenberg	7,944
Eisenhower	4,350
Wallace	1,262

PENSION PLAN —

president and the New Hampshire Senator forged ahead with their proposal in a meeting with Van Horn. The operator trustee approved one motion. This calls for investment of $25,000,000 of the miners welfare and retirement fund in government short term bonds.

Lewis and his 400,000 soft coal miners are now under injunction against striking. This came after the miners were out six weeks because no pension agreement had been reached with the operators. Bridges accepted an invitation to become third trustee, a post then vacant.

Lawyers generally believe the existing injunction wouldn't apply in a strike over terms of a new coal contract. The present contract expires June 30.

The pension fund director, Miss Roche, has been associated as a technical assistant and consultant to Lewis since the past December. She is a onetime assistant secretary of the Treasury and is president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel company, Denver.

his assistance, a sufficient supply of pipe is expected to be on hand constantly.

Although the auction on Feb. 27 disposed of much of the pipe, enough was left in the plant to put the factory on a going basis immediately.

The pipe plant's troubles began on Oct. 9, 1947, when 17 men of Local 2459, United Steelworkers of America (CIO), left their jobs.

They demanded a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost, which they said was necessary for their pay to be equivalent to that in the steel industry as a whole, and recognition of the USWA as their bargaining agent.

NEGOTIATIONS between labor and management followed, but bogged down time after time. At one time, in early December of 1947, rocks were hurled through windows of the plant.

Finally a complete breakdown of negotiations was announced, and the pipe was put up for auction.

Although attempts to put the plant into operation again were kept up for the past several months, with the editorial support of The Mercury, no progress could be reported until this week, when the successful launching of the stock and bond issues and the new incorporation of the plant were announced.

FINNS APPROVE PACT

HELSINKI, Finland, April 28 (AP) — Finland's parliament gave formal approval today after three weeks debate to the mutual assistance pact with Soviet Russia. Nearly one quarter of the 200 members abstained or voted nay on ratification.

Anglo-Saxons were early users of metal rings. The word "wed" meant a pledge and a ring was used to seal the bargain.

The airfield at Bogota, Colombia, is known as Techo—the roof—because it is situated at 8600 feet above sea level.

My Babu Captures Britain's Richest Race

NEWMARKET, England, April 28 (AP) — My Babu, a 2 to 1 favorite from the stables of the Maharaja of Baroda, won the 2000 guineas today, earning the richest prize in British turf history for his wealthy owner.

The bay son of Dejebel-Perfume scored by a head in the one-mile test for three-year-olds, first of the season's classic flat races.

Runner-up in the field of 18 was Lt. Col. Giles Loder's The Cobble, secondary favorite at 10 to 3 and ridden by champion jockey Gordon Richards, who has hooded home more than 3500 winners.

Mrs. H. J. Joel's Pride of India, a 20 to 1 outsider, was third four lengths farther back. Dorothy Paget's Birthday Greetings ran fourth.

Ridden by Charlie Smirke, who first rode a horse to victory 26 years ago, My Babu covered the mile in 1:35 2/5.

enthusiastic about the playground than their mothers.

"Boy, we sure do," one said when asked if he wanted a playground. He revealed that neighborhood children now play on the street or sneak onto The Hill school property, where they are likely to be evicted.

Mrs. Yohn said the entire community was behind the idea.

"The Seventh ward sticks together," she said, "and we'll stick together to get this playground."

THERE WILL BE no problem about supervision, she asserted. More than enough mothers have volunteered to stand watch by turns and she has lined up specialists who have agreed to do everything from conducting a story hour to teaching crocheting and instructing in woodcraft.

In addition to the playground materials, she added, the area must be fenced in to keep the children off Beech and Sheridan streets.

The playground will open as soon as it is equipped, she said.

Contributions will be accepted from everyone, Seventh warder or not.

Born With Teeth

Showing off for the cameraman is Randy Roy Reese, who was born in San Francisco with two lower teeth.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK!

SO FAR AS MOTHS are concerned, it is. Sure, we know, you've been frightfully busy getting the garden ready, painting the porch furniture, shopping for your Spring wardrobe, so have put off doing your closets "just a day or two longer." That's dandy — for hungry, homeless moths. They're probably already picnicking in your husband's favorite tweeds. It might be a good idea to do something before they become permanent tenants in your good woollens, too.

The BEST thing you can do is hurry right down to the REXALL Drug Store where a money-saving, moth-ridding combination is all ready for you. For $1.07 you can buy a 16 oz. can of Elkey's Moth Fume Crystals and a 16 oz. bottle of Elkey's Moth Killer and Control Liquid, regularly sold for $1.24. Both of these REXALL products kill not only moths but the worms (larvae) as well. Use them in storage chests, closets, garment bags, drawers. We don't have to remind you again of the costly damage moths can do to woolen clothing, rugs, even upholstered furniture.

Protect them now — before it's too late — with Elkey's Moth Fume Crystals and Elkey's Moth Killer and Control Liquid — quality REXALL products.

OPERA HOUSE —

suggested for the old opera house—a garage and storage space for borough and water department vehicles and equipment; a public auditorium; small stores to be rented in the front of the building, and future borough hall offices.

As arguments against the purchase of the building were—the cost of repairing, remodeling or completely reconstructing it, and the question of whether it actually would be needed for expanding borough departments.

The committee members generally agreed, however, that to buy the building would not be a mistake. The price that would be paid to Warner Brothers, present owners, was not revealed.

SINCE THE PRESENT building is on a lot 100 feet by 156 feet, with much waste ground, it was suggested by Burgess William A. Griffith, and agreed to by committee members, that the erection of a new building, the front flush with borough hall and the two buildings touching, would be putting it to the best use.

It was emphasized, however, that the hour-long discussion was tentative and that another meeting would be held after today's inspection.

Committee members present last night were Ralph L. Weiss, W. Mark Henricks, Peter J. Lawler, Daniel, C. Kern and Davidheiser.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears, Solicitor Carroll L. Rutter and Griffith also were present.

Roger Williams required all women of Salem to wear veils when attending church meetings.

The town's burgess, however, remembering one of his relatives, Dominic Marciorro, of Monocacy, wrote him and asked if home town families over here would help out.

Marciorro spoke to Ottaviano, a life-long acquaintance. Ottaviano promised to solicit all the other Fresagrandinno families in the area.

Marciorro said the burgess wrote that everyone was overjoyed about the election results and were most anxious to celebrate.

Ottaviano said there would be no celebration here on May 19, although their hearts would be with their townspeople.

OLD LAWS —

an hour. What would you do if you saw a stage coach coming at you along the sidewalk? Take another drink? Of course not. Just call for the cops.

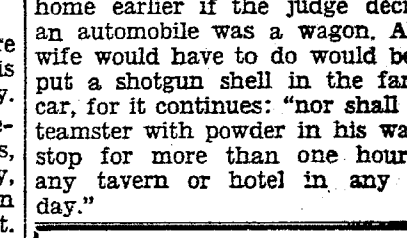

THE LAW states clearly: "It is not lawful to drive or ride any horse, cattle or other animals, bicycle, sleigh, sled, wagon, cart, stage coach, omnibus or other vehicle or carriage of pleasure or burden on such sidewalks."

In 1886, and today, this will cost you $5. You are permitted, however, to drive or ride such vehicles across the sidewalk to enter a yard or livery stable.

Animals can earn any citizen $250. The citizen splits a $5 fine with the borough for catching any "wild, steer, cow, heifer, or other cattle, horses, mules, sheep or swine" he finds running around loose in the streets.

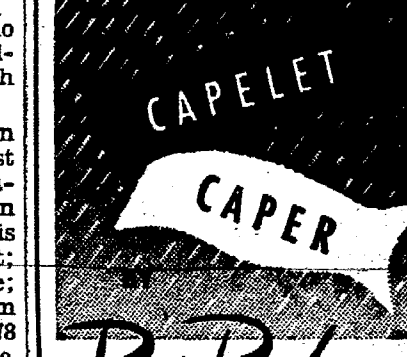

To get back to husband's Spring fever, wives who have considered blasting their mates out of bed should think twice. It would cost them $3 for the first offense if they had or kept more than 100 pounds of powder around. It jumps to $10 for second offenders.

This law could get any husband home earlier if the judge decided an automobile was a wagon. All a wife would have to do would be to put a shotgun shell in the family car, for it continues: "nor shall any teamster with powder in his wagon stop for more than one hour in any tavern or hotel in any one day."

President Entertains Legion Auxiliary At Birthday Party

Mrs. Murrell D. McKinstry, president of the auxiliary of Charles B. Yerger Post 471, American Legion, entertained members with a surprise party in observance of her birthday at a recent meeting in the American Legion home.

Mrs. McKinstry was assisted by Mrs. Walter Nagel, auxiliary treasurer. Refreshments, featuring two large birthday cakes, were served.

Auxiliary members, who recently knitted and sent an Afghan to the veterans hospital at Perry Point, Md., received a letter from an official there, thanking the Boyertown women for the gift. The Perry Point hospital is the only veterans hospital in the East which takes care of women veterans.

A meeting of the junior auxiliary preceded the auxiliary meeting. The young members are working on a Fourth of July project and are decorating four dozen picnic plates at the request of a veterans hospital.

Parade, Serenade Mark Legion Meeting

A parade and serenade by members of the drum and bugle corps of Charles B. Yerger Post 471, American Legion, in Oley highlighted a recent joint meeting of the Boyertown post members with Oley Valley Post 878.

Thirty-five members of the Boyertown post and its drum and bugle corps attended. Refreshments were served by the host group and a color motion picture on "Operation Crossroads," the atom bomb tests at Bikini, was shown.

The Oley valley members announced they would return the visit when they come to Boyertown to meet jointly with the local group Thursday, June 3, at 8 p. m.

Hospital Auxiliary Group To Attend Banquet Tonight

Thirteen members of Boyertown auxiliary of St. Joseph's hospital, Reading, will attend the annual donors day dinner tonight at 6:30 o'clock in Abraham Lincoln hotel, Reading.

They are Mrs. Mansell Campbell, Mrs. Roy Erb, Mrs. Herbert Schultz, Mrs. Mary Ebst, Pauline Ebst, Marie Ebst, Mrs. Luella Hagenbuch, Mrs. William Engel, Mrs. Lester Gottshall, Mrs. Lizze Sell, Emma Heere, Mrs. Lawrence Mest and Mrs. Warren Moatz.

Officers of Boyertown VFW Auxiliary Installed; Mrs. Kathryn Beck President

Mrs. Dorothy Gelst, district president of Post 13, auxiliaries of Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Reading, instituted the officers of the Boyertown auxiliary of Post 3487, all of whom were re-elected following a three-month period of service, at a recent meeting in Keystone Fire company.

Mrs. Gelst was assisted by Mrs. Victoria Wummer, deputy chief of staff, of Reading, in conducting the installation ceremony.

Inducted into office were the following officers: President, Mrs. Kathryn Beck; senior vice president, Mrs. Joyce Weller; junior vice president, Mrs. Lydia Miller; secretary, Mrs. Mildred Weller; treasurer, Mrs. Helen Stec; chaplain, Mrs. Carrie Groff, and conductress, Mrs. Sara Herb.

Also historian and pianist, Mrs. Irene Meck; guard, Mrs. Sophie Miller; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Minnie Fronheller; color bearers, Mrs. Doris Miller, Mrs. Mildred Starr, Mrs. Larue Erb and Sara Landis. Trustees instituted into office were Mrs. Mae Weller, Mrs. Paul Carver and Miss Landis.

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. Mabel Correll, senior vice president of Berks county council and Mrs. Violet Hafer, past president of Post 3405, VFW, West Reading, as well as a large delegation from Post 9045, Mohnton Memorial post. Refreshments were served at the meeting.

It was announced the local post would conduct a card party in the Friendship Hook and Ladder company Wednesday, May 19. Thirty members attended the meeting.

Lodge Rolls List Three Generations

Three generations of active membership in the Odd Fellows were represented at a recent meeting of Boyertown Lodge 708, IOOF, when Wilmer Youse, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Youse, Bechtelsville, was initiated into the organization.

Youse's grandfather, Charles Youse, New Berlinville, as well as his father, both witnessed the initiation ceremony. The grandfather is a member of the degree team which was in charge.

Youse is a nephew of Morris Youse, present noble grand of the Boyertown lodge.

John Schwenk, Boyertown RD 2, also was initiated at the same time.

Seventeen candidates from Never-sink lodge, Birdsboro, will have the first and second degrees conferred on them at the local lodge's meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Boyertown.

Also on the group's schedule of coming activities is a trip to Birdsboro on Monday, May 10, to confer the third degree on the class of 17 candidates as well as the two local initiates.

Greek Court Rules Death For 36 Communist Spies

SALONIKA, Greece, April 28 (AP)—A military court condemned 34 men and two women of a Communist spy ring today to death. Nine others were given life terms and 22 got shorter sentences. Six were acquitted.

The prisoners were rounded up in the past eight months in and near this port. They had gathered information on Greek and allied civil, military and political services.

High School Notes

About 30 Boyertown High school journalists will attend the high school press conference at Pennsylvania State college Saturday.

They include Marilyn Neiman, Herman Richard, Richard Weller, Harry Reliff, Kenneth Nyce, Jack Nyce, Forrest Fryer, Sylvia Miller, Frank Cressman, Dolores Zern, Mary Louise March, June Rose, Clyde Underkoffler, Affie Haddad, Barbara Keller, Wanda Gresh, Daniel Hartman, Jesse Mercer, Mary Jane Nagel, Doris Stahl, Mary Jane Mercer, Grace Lefevre and Janet Drumheller.

The group, accompanied by several publications advisers in the school, will leave Boyertown early Saturday morning and return late Saturday night.

Miss March, news editor of "The Cub," student newspaper, will appear on a student panel at the school. She will discuss the topic, "Covering the Administration Beat."

Among other speakers will be Peter Huss, writer who covers the United Nations. Activities for the day will be concluded with campus tours in the afternoon.

"The Cub" student newspaper of Boyertown schools, is scheduled to appear tomorrow.

Eleanor Melcher and Marilyn Neiman, editorial assistants on "The Cub" student newspaper, have accepted joint chairmanship of The Crusade for Children, the American Overseas Aid-United Nations joint appeal for children in Europe and the Far East, and will begin their job today when they are slated to appear before students of both Lincoln and Washington elementary schools to tell students why the funds are necessary.

In the absence of any other community agency's accepting responsibility for the campaign the student newspaper will sponsor collection of further funds from other community and civic organizations who desire to contribute.

The annual exhibition of work of the school population of Boyertown will be held Friday, May 14, it was announced yesterday by Lawrence E. Grim, high school principal. All teachers will have an exhibit of class work.

Ruth E. Benfield, director of nurses at Pottstown hospital, is scheduled to talk to girls of the sophomore class in the high school auditorium at 10:45 a. m. today.

16 Injured in Smash-up

In a freak accident involving three cars and a bus, 16 persons were injured before the vehicles came to stops. A car driven by Gordon Johnson glanced off another and rammed the auto above into a bus. Two women occupants of the crumpled sedan, Ruth Segal and Doris Davenport, were injured. At bottom (right) is a victim's shoe.

Lettuce Beats Love In Berlin Parks Again

BERLIN, April 28 (AP)—By order of the American military government, the parks of Berlin again will be devoted this Spring to potato and cabbage patches rather than lovers' lanes.

Slapping down a spreading rumor that parks and public squares would again revert to grass and trees and statuary, the AMG ordered no letup in the vegetable garden program in the U. S. sector of the city in view of the continuing world food shortage.

U. S. food officials said only in a few places in the center of the city, such as Leipziger platz, would vegetable planting be discontinued and that because of poor soil and other conditions not conducive to good yields.

Pughtown Scouts Receive Charter, Individual Awards

Ninety parents and boys of Pughtown Boy Scout Troop 25 and Cub Pack 25 met last night in Pughtown Sunday school for a Parents' Night program that saw presentation of the troop charter and awards to 16 scouts.

James Lockhart received the Silver Palm to his Eagle badge from James Walker, troop committeeman, who also presented badges to the following boys:

John H. Rinehart, Wayne Urner and Frank Pine, tenderfoot; George Finkbinder and Ronald Boettger, second class, and Charles Leyrer, star scout.

The investiture ceremony for the three new scouts was in charge of Scoutmaster Earl Webster, while Cubmaster Jesse H. Wynn presented cubbing awards to:

Ethan Rinehart, wolf badge with two arrows; Robert Ed, bear badge with gold arrow; Robert Thomas and Leon Vroman, bear badge with two arrows; Donald Huzzard, bear badge; Royden Vroman, lion badge with two arrows, and David Ed, John VanDen Eden and Dale Bainbridge, bobcat badge.

THE TROOP'S CHARTER was presented to Webster by George Weidman, representative of the sponsoring Pughtown Baptist church.

Lewis Lester, scout executive of Chester county, presented membership cards to the scouts and senior leaders, and also addressed the group briefly.

Films of Camp Philmont, N. M., were shown by James Lockhart, while Mrs. Lockhart was in charge of the parents committee which arranged the covered dish dinner that preceded the meeting.

Other officials present included Alvin White, district commissioner, and William Thornhill, assistant scout executive.

Two Top Men Expected To Leave Commerce Dep't

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Informed sources said today that two high officials will follow former Secretary Harriman out of the Commerce department in the next few weeks.

They are Undersecretary William C. Foster and Assistant Secretary David K. E. Bruce.

The informants said neither of the forthcoming resignations was brought on by President Truman's nomination of Charles Sawyer, Cincinnati lawyer, to succeed Harriman after the latter's appointment as roving ambassador under the European Recovery program.

Sawyer, they said, invited both men to remain in their posts, and Foster and Bruce have promised to stay on temporarily while Sawyer familiarizes himself with his new duties.

Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil, NO harmful drugs, NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments—highly recommended by the medical profession.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry weighing you down, it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not patronize regularly these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thionin in ancient Greece—where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created Geo-Mineral as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis, rheumatism leaving as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for—we unhesitatingly recommend it."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggist's shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who come back to buy more and tell us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

Senate Unit Okays Anti-Poll Tax Bill; Bitter Debate Seen

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The poll tax bill is ready to set off a fourth smashing battle on the Senate floor whenever the Republicans give the word. It was approved today by the rules committee. The bill would knock out the poll tax as a requirement to vote for president and congressmen. The House passed it the past July. Three times the stage has been set just like this, and three times Southern Senators have filibustered the measure to death. They are ready to try again. This is one of the measures on President Truman's civil rights program that aroused Southern ire and split Democratic ranks. But it may not be the first of them taken up on the Senate floor.

GOP POLICY makers recently gave priority to anti-lynching legislation, although it has not yet come out of committee. Action on this subject is scheduled for tomorrow when the Senate Judiciary committee hears in closed session from a subcommittee which has held extensive hearings. The first civil rights measure—perhaps the anti-lynch bill—is expected to be called up for Senate debate toward the end of the session this Spring. This would prevent a filibuster from stalling other must legislation. Chairman Brooks (R-Ill.) of the rules committee announced that the poll tax bill was approved by voice vote. Senators Stennis (D-Miss) and Hayden (D-Ariz) said they opposed it.

Iowa Man Fined $50 For Stealing Newspaper

STOUC CITY, April 28 (AP)—Adjudged guilty of stealing a newspaper, Martin V. Tuma, 64, was fined $50 by Municipal Judge George M. Paradise. A witness testified he saw Tuma take a paper (Stouck City Journal-Tribune) from the porch of a subscriber after the carrier boy, Robert Lawson, 14, had delivered it. The judge said: "A newspaper is property and its theft constitutes larceny. The newspaper was the property of the carrier boy until he had properly accounted for it. Inasmuch as there is a difference of 50 years in the ages of the defendant and the boy, I feel that the fine should represent $1 for each year of difference in age."

Police Hold Suspect In Reuther Probe

DETROIT, April 28 (AP)—Chief of Detectives Jack Harvill said today that an unnamed suspect had been questioned and given a lie detector test which was "not satisfactory" in connection with the shooting of Walter Reuther. The man, Harvill said, would be held for further questioning in the eight-day old case of sifting clues in the attempted assassination of the 40-year-old president of the CIO United Auto Workers. In the lie detector test, Harvill related, the man admitted driving a red automobile on the night of Reuther's shooting, April 28. He also described the man as "nervous" and added that his story "doesn't sound so good." The chief of detectives refused to elaborate further, except to mention that through an informant from a neighboring city, police were attempting to locate a second man to check any information he might have. Meanwhile, hospital attendants reported Reuther's condition was still improving. His right arm was torn by slugs of a shotgun blast fired through the kitchen window of his home by a mysterious assailant.

SENATE ADJOURNS CASE

LANSING, Mich., April 28 (AP)—The Michigan Senate tonight adjourned until May 20 its unprecedented contempt trial of James Zarichny, Michigan State college student who refused to tell whether he is a Communist.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in treating your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness. To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia, so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so desperately need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

State Senate to Include Nine Newcomers In 1949; Pair Beaten in Primary Vote

HARRISBURG, April 28 (AP)—There will be at least nine new faces in Pennsylvania's State senate in 1949.

Two incumbent senators — a Republican and a Democrat — were beaten in efforts to win party nominations for another term, and seven other veteran lawmakers did not make the try.

But all the top legislative leaders in both the Republican and Democratic primaries came through with victories. These included Senate President M. Harvey Taylor, of Harrisburg, who squeezed through with a scant 1400 majority in a heated Dauphin county ballot battle.

The Republican State chairman is seeking a third term in the upper branch with the special blessing of Gov. James H. Duff. He was opposed in the GOP primary by Walter M. Mumma, independent Republican, who gave Taylor his worst tussle in nearly 30 years of politics.

STATE SEN. GEORGE N. WADE, of Camp Hill, also won his fight for the Republican nomination in the 31st senatorial district. He came through with better than 2600 majority in his four-county district. Senators Jacob Carr, Butler Republican, and Louis Klein, Allegheny Democrat, were not so fortunate. Carr lost a third term bid to Albert R. Peckham, of Ford City, in the 41st district. Klein was beaten in the Democratic primary by Samuel G. Neff of Ellwood City.

A scattering of State house veterans also lost out in the primaries although 129 of the 182 lower house members running again had no opposition in their own parties. All 208 seats of the lower branch will be filled in November and 25, or half, of the State senate.

forces in the lower branch: Rep. Albert L. O'Connor (D-Cambria), who broke away from the Democratic minority in some of the tax fights of recent sessions; Rep. Samuel L. Pickens (R-Clarion), Clarion publisher; Rep. William J. Crowley Jr. (R-Allegheny), and Rep. A. V. Capano (D-Washington).

In Cumberland county, Rep. Robert W. Fish was a victim of the Republican organization split which Senator Wade survived in his Senate nomination race. Fish, who ran with Wade, was beaten by Arthur George, the candidate of the S. Eber Vance GOP faction.

The State House poet, Rep. Irving S. Dix (R-Wayne), lost out in northeast Pennsylvania, while Ferdinand A. Thomassy (R-Washington) was beaten for nomination in the southwest corner. Thomassy recently was active in the independent Republican drive in Pennsylvania to draft General Dwight D. Eisenhower for the GOP nomination for President.

Two Philadelphia lawmakers — Raymond A. Wallin and William Rowen, both Republicans — failed of renomination.

In addition to Heyburn, State senators dropping out of the legislative scene voluntarily were Peter M. Margie (D-Luzerne), Cyrus B. Tyler (R-Wyoming), Paul N. Crider (R-Franklin), Henry L. Wilson (R-Jefferson), William S. Rahauser (D-Allegheny), now Allegheny county district attorney.

There also is a vacancy in 18th senatorial district due to the resignation of Carleton R. Woodring, of Easton, to become judge. A special election, however, must be called by the lieutenant governor to fill the unexpired two years of Woodring's term.

Small Steel Plant Okays Wage Increase

BRADDOCK, April 28 (AP)—A brass fabricating firm today granted a pay increase to members of a United Steelworkers local. It was the first company to break with the no-raise pattern adopted recently by the U. S. Steel corporation. The firm, the Acheson Manufacturing company, gave its 450 workers a five-cent hour raise. James H. Thomas, district 15 director of the Steelworkers, said Acheson operates under the two-year no-strike clause in effect throughout the basic steel industry.

Government Officials Consider Program For Military Lend-Lease to Western Europe

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Military lend-lease for Western Europe is receiving official consideration.

Secretary of State Marshall told a news conference today that is one of the means the United States government is thinking about to strengthen the countries of the west.

And Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the House foreign affairs committee said that group has asked the State department to draft what would be in effect a military lend-lease bill for non-Communist foreign nations.

"But I'm afraid it is going to be too late to do anything about it now," Eaton told a reporter, pointing out that Congress expects to adjourn in June.

"WE ARE NOT GOING to take it upon ourselves to write a bill," he added, "and apparently the departments downtown aren't able to get together on one. A bill like that would require long consideration."

Eaton disclosed that the committee directed the department to draw up the legislation during closed-door sessions when it considered the global economic aid bill, now enacted into law.

A limited revival of lend-lease to furnish military equipment without cost to nations trying to build up their forces against possible Soviet aggression has been unofficially predicted for some time as a new step in this country's stop-Russia policy.

At the news conference in which he mentioned military help, Marshall also indicated that the United States intends to make certain that any Austrian peace treaty to which it agrees will clearly guarantee the future independence of Austria.

ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT involving relations with the Soviet Union, the House foreign affairs committee voted today to investigate measures which this country might take to strengthen the power of the United Nations in dealing with actual or threatened aggression.

The committee tentatively sched-

Private Industry Doomed By Yugoslav Statute

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 28 (AP)—The national assembly voted today an absolute end to all private industry in Yugoslavia.

The bill also turned into state ownership all real property of foreign citizens except in a few instances. Foreign peasant farmers working the land personally, the property of foreign diplomats serving official needs, and apartments which serve the owner as a residence were excluded.

The bill brings under state ownership "all those corporations which, by their character and capacity, have general importance to the federal and republican economy, for the protection of the peoples' health and the cultural development of the peoples' masses."

uled Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the United Nations, to be the first witness at hearings beginning Monday.

Man, 71, Escapes Jail Sentence; Stole 4 Peanuts

DES MOINES, April 28 (AP)—Store detectives swooped down on a 71-year-old man today and called police to take him to jail.

Detective Captain Tom Clarkson, after conferring with store officials, released the older.

His theft: Four chocolate covered peanuts.

Fashion Queens Will Bow to King Cotton For Frocks Suited to Work and Pleasure

By EDITH M. SCHAEFFER (Mercury Society Editor)

Cotton will be king for the queens who will wear the fashions this Summer.

Cotton will be worn for gay mornings.

Cotton will be worn for casual afternoons and cotton will go dancing in the new bewitching short evening "moon tan" dresses.

Suits will also be worn—Summer suits—in crisp linen—in satin smooth chambray—in waffleweave pique and even in the ticking which once was used only for pillows and mattress covers.

These two facts were very pointedly brought out at the annual Passover Tea and fashion show held by the Sisterhood of the Mercy and Truth synagogue last night in the synagogue.

MRS. EMIL SCHORSCH opened the tea with the telling of the age old story of the liberation of the Jews from the clutches of Pharaoh at the time of the Passover, and after charmingly bringing the message home that all members of the sisterhood lend their shoulder to the abolition of modern slavery for a new era for the Hebrew people.

Mrs. Freda Alexander, commentator of the fashions, who in her low throaty voice described them with such perfection that even escapable lines were soon noticed, opened the show with the singing of "Lovely To Look At," accompanied at the piano by Mr. Paul Hoffman, who also furnished the musical background for the show.

ENTERING THE STAGE first was Mrs. William Pollock in a grey two-piece morning dress featuring a ballerna skirt with drop shoulder neckline. The cool cotton chambray could be worn from morning till night without being out of place. With this she chose a green milan hat with red poppies and wheat trim.

Next to cross the stage and float down the large white runway, especially laid for the event, was Mrs. Morrell Gregg in a green and white striped shirring dress. Designed with an unusual neckline with buttoned collar, the shirring sleeves were most effective. Her hat was a Panama Stetson in white with pique flowers.

In satin smooth chambray, Mrs. Michael Schneider was charmingly gowned for a walk in the park. The tucked vest sported gunmetal buttons which marched up to the new Madras neckline. With this she wore a grey Milan straw with large chenille dot veil trim.

MISS LILLIAN RADEN appeared in a striking yellow striped chambray with soft green trim. The long ballerna skirt was attached to the fitted bodice featuring a long low "v" neckline. Her hat was a rustic straw, around the open crown of which was a wreath of field flowers. With this she wore matching flat sandals.

In a two-piece suit of blue and white ticking, Mrs. Albert Leblang made a lovely appearance. The casual suit featured turnback pockets and modified full skirt with white trim. Her hat was a white pique sailor with a slung-back veil in gray, reminding one of a Puritan lady. Her red accessories added just the right touch of color.

Mrs. Martin Feit chose for her first appearance a simple shirt-maker in shantung, which sent ripples of approval through the audience. The new blue gray color went well with a Stetson panama of coffee shade. The casual air of the hat and the casual coolness of the dress were beautiful in their simplicity.

DAINTY WAS the word to describe Mrs. Max Friedman as she entered in a red and white candy striped cotton with wide cummerbund belt. The already full skirt which started at a short fitted waist used an extra tucked in flounce to emphasize its fullness. The beige straw with ripple brim and open crown was a natural for the simplicity of the dainty frock.

A smart casual for day time wear was the aqua chambray chosen by Mrs. Robert Miller. The new side portrait neckline featured a tucked side bow, while the bottom of the skirt contained a white embroidered ruffle.

In a material that has swept the nation this Spring and shows every indication of becoming the number one leader of Summer is the stone cutter cord, of which Mrs. Ruth Levitz chose a two piece in grey. The simple medium length jacket covered a full ballerna skirt. Her grey straw was highly trimmed with shiny roses topped with a high feather.

MRS. GREGG again appeared, this time in a simple green and white silk shirring featuring a tiny green tie, small green belt and buttons. The graceful flare of the skirt matched the sleek straight lines of the bodice.

This time in a red, white and yellow stripe, Mrs. Michael Schneider was striking in the fit of the softly molded waist, the high buttoned neckline and the swirl of the skirt made full from dozens of unpressed pleats. This was a dress that would be appropriate for early afternoon, spectator sports or lounging on a Summer porch.

In her first appearance, Mrs. Joseph Brenner chose a soft chambray of unusual stripe effect. The dress was of simple lines depending on the matching of the stripes to give the stunning effect.

The classic buttoned all the way to the bottom with one simple front pleat.

MRS. ROSALYN Horwich chose for her first entrance a junior butcher linen in beige. The soft neckline was enhanced with a clever printed scarf, complementing the color of the dress. With the clever gold button and matching belt it was perfect for informal parties and dances.

Miss Raden chose a two piece suit of long cloth with delightful cummerbund belt effect. The simple unpressed pleats added fullness to the slim skirt. She wore with this a white pique bonnet designed with off the face lines.

In a town suit of corded ticking, Mrs. Gregg scored another hit. The long straight slit skirt was topped with a long waisted jacket trimmed with silver and gold buttons. In a multistriped chambray of two piece effect, Mrs. Schneider showed what could be worn for informal tea parties, picnics, and Sunday calls.

WINNING APPROVAL from the audience in a multiplaid suit of chambray, Mrs. Feit was exquisite in the simplicity of the ensemble which fitted a modified flared skirt to a plain molded bodice. Adding to the touch was a huge black picture hat in black rough straw elaborately trimmed at the right places with huge poppies.

For the hot, hot days in town was a yellow, green and white stripe, looking as frosty as a cool lime drink worn by Mrs. Leblang. The three-quarter length sleeves were attached to a boxy waistline with mandarin neck. Mrs. Friedman chose for the torrid weather a cool number in rust, chartreuse, and light brown, with full, full skirt topped by a fitted bodice down which marched gunmetal buttons. A double peplum and tiny peterpan collar was the only trim.

AS CHARMING as the street, afternoon morning and sports dresses were the ensembles to go dancing at after the theater parties. (Continued on Next Page)

Century Club Members Enjoy Musical Presented by Delphian String Quartet

Members of the Century club were thrilled by the brilliant playing of the Delphian String Quartet of the Reading Symphony orchestra at their meeting yesterday afternoon in Library hall.

The program which was in charge of Mrs. Chester Bechtel, chairman of the music committee, was presented by Miss Jane Ermentrout, first violin; Mrs. Lela Gery, viola, and Miss Kathleen Emblant, cello. They were accompanied by

Mothers' Club Group Prepares to Stage New Type Minstrel

Plans which have been under way for some time for the minstrel show, "The Men Time Minstrels," were completed last night at a meeting of the Mothers' club at St. Paul's Reformed church when it met at the home of Mrs. Robert Weller, 18 West Fifth street.

The show, which varies greatly from the run-of-the-mill minstrel will be a restaurant scene with the interior as the head waitress and the end men as the waitresses. It will be given May 20 and 21 in the Sunday school room of the church.

The committee in charge of the production is Mrs. Frank Gross, Mrs. James Waters, Mrs. Harry Overholzer, Mrs. Fred Spielman and Mrs. George Rhoads.

DRESSED IN WHITE uniforms with brilliantly colored aprons the six end men will be Mrs. James Waters, Mrs. Donald Sands, Mrs. Robert Herringer, Mrs. Oliver Rhoads, Mrs. Edward Heimbach and Mrs. Linwood Shaner. The head waitress is Mrs. Louis Feigley.

Included in the show will be a monolog by Mrs. Harry Overholzer; a skit by Mrs. Michael Schmidt and Mrs. Howard Rummel; and a pantomime by Mrs. Spielman and Mrs. Austin Sundstrom.

The chorus is composed of Mrs. George Rhoads, Mrs. Robert Weller, Mrs. Dale March, Mrs. George Good, Mrs. Albert Redman, Mrs. Robert Peck and Mrs. Sanford Bechtel. The pianist is Mrs. Frank Gross.

DURING the business meeting at which Mrs. Heimbach presided, plans were also discussed for the annual Mothers' Day program of which the mothers' class is always in charge. A special program will be put on again this year.

A guest of the club last night was Mrs. Eric Starratt, South Weymouth, Mass., who is visiting for an extended time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Rhoads.

At a late hour, refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. Fred Spielman, co-hostess.

The next meeting will be held May 25 at the home of Mrs. Linwood Shaner, Spring City.

Amid comments such as "My, how things have changed," and "Don't tell me that's High Street!" 50-year-old pictures of Pottstown and its people were passed among the members of the Lady Wittenmyer lodge 20 when they met last night in Odd Fellows hall.

Apparently the group enjoyed the social, for it was announced that members were to bring baby pictures for the social following the next meeting on May 12. It was also decided to sponsor a party for the Valley Forge General hospital patients. The date will be announced later.

New officers who were installed recently are as follows: Mrs. Mae Dersh, noble grand; Mrs. Daisy Henry, vice grand; Mrs. Ruth Stanton, right support to noble grand; Mrs. Mary Richards, left support to noble grand; Mrs. Kathryn Shaffer, right support to vice grand; Mrs. Mae Frain, left support to vice grand; Miss Hazel Mest, warden; Mrs. Ruth Rittenhouse, conductor; Mrs. Clara Fritz, color bearer; and Mrs. Martha Platt, inside guard.

Also, Mrs. Salome Mest, outside guard; Mrs. Susan Good, musician; Mrs. Esther Mest, chaplain.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED at last night's meeting were as follows: social, Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Platt, Mrs. Margaret Kurtz, Mrs. Miriam Moore, Mrs. Annie Weand and Mrs. Shaffer; ways and means, Mrs. Viola Barrer, Mrs. Ann Romig, Mrs. Corrine Bechtel, and Mrs. Marlene Hofferker; entertainment, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Margaret Miller

Old Into New

Prints that are as varied, as beautiful, as interesting as the various sources that inspired their design, offer a wide choice to the print-frock addict. A leader in the fabric design field, Julius N. Werk, turned to the ancient art of the Orient for some of his new designs. The beautiful, frock, shown here, is of pink printed with a leaf-shaped motif inspired by ancient art work on a Mesopotamian bowl. Soft skirt fullness below a peg-top pocket detail lends animation to the otherwise slim lines.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

Toda, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haring, Hanover and Diamond streets, four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wolfe, Birdsboro, 26 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry; picnic, Mrs. Richards, Miss Mest and Mrs. Rittenhouse.

Also, delinquent, Mrs. Lillian Longenberger and Mrs. Fritz; visiting and flowers, Mrs. Esther Mest, Mrs. Weand and Mrs. Richards; home service, Mrs. Mest, Mrs. Good and Mrs. Grace Atkinson.

Pigs-in-the-box were won by Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Frain. Special prizes were won by Mrs. Florence Myers and Mrs. Emma Smith.

small club get-togethers and Sunday night suppers.

Looking utterly stunning was Miss Raden in a burnt toast and turquoise "moon tan" dress. Following the lines of the sun tan backs of many years ago, the new look was with more formality and greater elegance of line. The new gowns are made for dancing, not playing in the sun. The short skirt was of modified fullness, while unusual pockets enhanced the jacket. The hat chosen for this was a Paris plateau in black straw with a new straw pin.

ALSO NEW in the dancing dresses was a fine gingham and miniature check in lavender and purple worn by Mrs. Pollock. Most entrancing of the gown was the button back sleeves, pockets and a skirt that would button down to make it of ankle length, to serve as an evening gown. The portrait scalloped neckline was of the new lowness with tiny puffed sleeves matching the scallops.

Also showing the new "moon back" dress was Mrs. Feit in a pastel plaid of very full skirt. The set in sleeves were the most important part of the simple bodice, which depended on the fullness of the skirt for effect. A short black bolero jacket with large buttons covered the back for cool evenings.

Receiving applause from the audience even before she left the stage to wander among the audience was Mrs. Raden in a full skirt of pumpkin shade. With this she wore a grey, white and matching pumpkin stocking blouse, caught at the waist with the ever popular cummerbund. A brown felt sombrero trimmed with a pumpkin satin streamer added effect to the costume.

THERE WERE MANY, many more charming styles to complete the 60 models shown to the audience. Each in its own way pleased to a greater or lesser degree those of the audience. While a word of approval was heard from one portion of the audience on one costume, from another would come the words, "not for me," but from different parts of the audience came approval of all of the ensembles sooner or later.

During the intermission all new members of the sisterhood were presented with corsages by Mrs. Sidney Pollock, chairman of the membership committee. Those who received the floral offerings were Mrs. Louis Ruben, Mrs. Carl Estreicher, Mrs. Samuel Levin, Mrs. Horace Princenthal, Mrs. David Mervin, Mrs. Joseph Raden, Mrs. Joseph Fidler, Mrs. Philip Raden, Mrs. Theodore Grayev, Mrs. Lester Rosen, Mrs. William Litvin, Mrs.

Harold Litvin, Mrs. Herbert Batt and Mrs. Gerald Stein.

ALSO RECEIVING corsages were the mother of the newest baby, the latest bride, the grandmother with the most grandchildren, the great grandmother and all the past presidents present.

Following the fashion show, tea, small cakes and goodies were served the 150 guests present at two long "L" shaped tea tables elaborately decorated with four huge silver tea sets, centerpieces of mixed spring flowers and lovely green chinaware. The long tea tables shone as a fascinating panorama against the huge vases of flowering crab blossoms and large feathery ferns on the stage.

Mrs. Schorsch, Mrs. Thomas Weiss, Mrs. Amelia Estreicher and Mrs. Rose Raden poured while members of the committee in charge of arrangements helped with the serving of the many guests.

MRS. GEORGE Berman was chairman of the committee of arrangements, while those assisting were: Mrs. Leon Levitz, Mrs. Martin A. Feit, Mrs. Sidney Pollock, Mrs. Sol Leventhal, Mrs. Herman Lichtman, Mrs. Rosalyn Gould, Mrs. Leon Charles Leifer, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. Sol Weintraub, Mrs. Morris Hoffman and Mrs. Arthur Weitzenkorn.

The dresses were supplied by the Mae Lederer shop, while hats were by the Claire Hat shop.

Arthur E. Amwake Feted On Birthday Anniversary

Mr. Arthur E. Amwake Sr., 123 High street, was pleasantly surprised at a dinner given in honor of his 72nd birthday anniversary recently at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Amwake, 548 North Adams street.

After the guest of honor opened the numerous gifts, the guests enjoyed home movies.

Dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. John Patten and daughter, Emily; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rummel and daughter, Gladys; Mrs. Elwood Kerr and daughter, Carol; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Scholl, Miss Mildred Patten and Mr. Jacob Ziegler.

In St. Ann's church, Phoenixville, Miss Marie L. Woodland, (above) recently became the bride of Mr. Edward P. Gavin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Woodland, 1217 Maple street, while Mr. Gavin is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Gavin, Phoenixville.

Dr. Miriam E. Lederer Is New York Bride Of Mr. Christian Theis

Mr. Norman K. Lederer, of Pottstown, N. Y., announces the recent marriage of his daughter, Dr. Miriam E. Lederer, Pottstown RD 3, to Mr. Christian Theis, son of Mrs. Mary Theis, also of Pottstown RD 3, in the Church of Christ, New York City.

Dr. Lederer looked stunning in a beige gabardine suit with brown accessories. Her bridal corsage consisted of orchids.

The only attendant was Dr. Ruth Koder, of Philadelphia, while the duties of best man were performed by the brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Stephen Theis.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the immediate family at Longchamps in New York. Guests attended from Philadelphia, California, Long Island and Pottstown.

Murderer Apologizes; Draws Life Sentence

MONTROSE, April 28 (AP)—Stephen Emmons, 26-year-old convicted murderer, apologized for his crime today and told a judge "I am very sorry it happened."

Emmons, convicted of the gunslaying of 61-year-old George Silvers, was jailed for life by Judge E. P. Little.

A jury found Emmons guilty of first degree murder and recommended a life term.

Silvers was shot the past Dec. 12 from ambush.

Nervy Crooks Operate In California Prison

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 28 (AP)—Polsom prison officials are convinced there are some crooks around.

They discovered today that someone had stolen a batch of blank checks from the prison's business office and is traveling around forging the names of Warden Robert Heintze and Associate Warden William Ryan to them.

Ten of the checks, each for $150, have turned up, and there are 50 blanks still missing.

How they got outside the prison has not been determined.

Green cabbage is a crisp and delicious addition to Spring meals. Quarter it, place it in enough boiling water to cover and cook uncovered just until tender; this will take no more than 7 to 12 minutes. Leaving the saucepan uncovered will help dissipate any strong odor.

Variance Approved, One Is Denied by Local Zoning Board

Two decisions on applications for variances from the zoning law have been handed down by the zoning board of adjustment, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears announced yesterday.

Sears said the board took action on two of three applications upon which hearings were held April 21.

A brick addition to the upholstery shop of Henry Kappes, Fourth and State streets, was approved by the board.

The application of Walter G. Lord, 120 South Hanover street, to convert his eight-room home into a two-family house was denied because of lack of ground and space.

No decision was handed down on the application of the B. E. Block and company, High and Charlotte streets, to convert a building at 134-36 Walnut street into a dress factory. This application was protested at the hearing by Walnut street residents. It is still under consideration by the board.

Plans Discussed For Clean-Up Drive

As forms for the annual clean up, paint up campaign were distributed to Pottstown school children yesterday, the Minute Men of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce met to discuss plans for the drive.

At a noon session in the Merchants hotel, the group appointed one of its members to act as a supervisor in each ward. The ward supervisors will survey their territory, determine what is needed, and direct clean-up groups.

Pottstown's Boy Scout troops will participate in the campaign as a community good turn.

On the forms handed out in the schools yesterday, youngsters received suggestions as to what to clean up. They will check them off as they are accomplished. On a point basis, the winning class will receive a prize. Prizes also will be given for the best poster and essay on the campaign.

Woman, 25, Assaulted; Attacker Steals 25 Cents

PHILADELPHIA, April 28 (AP)—Police sought a youthful assailant today who beat and raped a 40-year-old mother of four children.

Detective Sgt. Patrick Kennedy said Mrs. Vera Kroeger, wife of a Frankford arsenal scientist, was seized shortly before dawn as she left an elevated train station.

The man beat Mrs. Kroeger into semi-consciousness when she screamed for help, Kennedy said. The assailant fled taking the woman's handbag which contained 25 cents and some cosmetics.

Forrestal Reports to President On Controversial Defense Setup

WASHINGTON, April 28 (P)—Military leaders took the badly snarled defense program back to President Truman today to see if he could untie a few knots for them. The President asked for universal military training, a temporary draft and expansion of the armed forces six weeks ago. He asked for speed because of the troubled world situation.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal is shown as he reported to President Truman on a defense plan that has run into numerous snags.

Kin of Naval Officer Returns From Tour

Robert C. Gruber, 124 Bridge street, Spring City, returned yesterday morning from a three-week tour to California, after having accompanied his nephew, Lt. Arnold Spohn, U. S. Navy chaplain, who was scheduled to sail today from San Francisco, for a new assignment on Guam.

Lt. Spohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Spohn, 555 Cedar street, Spring City, had completed a 20-day leave of absence from Oceana, Va., before leaving for the Pacific outpost.

He left by motor April 5 with his uncle, Mr. Gruber. They stopped at many points of interest en route, including places in South Carolina, New Orleans, New Mexico and Tucson, Ariz.; the Petrified Forest, Ariz.; Utah, the Boulder dam, Death Valley, Yosemite National park, Monterey, Calif., and other points.

Lt. Spohn shipped his car from San Francisco to his new post on Guam, and Mr. Gruber returned here by rail, arriving yesterday morning.

Senator Marlin, Two Generals Trail Stassen and Dewey

A general idea of the sentiment of Twin-Borough voters regarding the Republican candidates for President was obtained at the Primary election Tuesday, although the total vote was but a small percentage of the number of registered voters.

Some few voters wrote in the names of General Eisenhower, General MacArthur and U. S. Senator Edward Martin, but the voting resulted in a contest between Harold E. Stassen and Thomas E. Dewey.

Stassen carried Royersford by a count of 106 to 68, but Dewey ran ahead in Spring City, 66 to 60, giving Stassen a net total in the two towns of 166, and Dewey, 134.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN polled a total vote of 70 on the Democratic ticket in the two towns, of which 50 were in Royersford and 20 in Spring City.

The voting for President, however, did not represent the number of persons who voted. Approximately four times as many voted for other offices.

The Primaries were devoid of any contests, except in Spring City, where the voters took their choice on the selection of S. Gerald Darlington, Littitz, or Paul B. Dague, Downingtown, for Republican representative in Congress, Ninth district. Dague won easily by a count of 202 to 46.

Members of the county committee who were nominated without opposition in both boroughs were:

Coaltown and Citation Expected To Cop First 2 Places in Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28 (AP)—Coaltown turned in another of his amazing work-outs at Churchill Downs today, fairly burning up the famous racing strip for six furlongs and further convincing the experts that Saturday's Kentucky Derby will be strictly a match race between him and his stablemate, Citation.

Four days before the three-year-old classic, little is heard except Citation and Coaltown—or vice versa. Louisville book-makers are offering even money that the Calumet Farm's entry will run one-two, and from Warren Wright, owner of the two beauties, comes positive assurance that there will at least be a family horse race.

"There will be no declaring to win with either Coaltown or Citation," he declared at his home near Lexington. "It will be a real horse race, and may the best horse win. I want to win the Derby, and I don't care which one gets down in front."

"THEY'RE BOTH fine colts, and

and then goes on to win the triple crown."

Ben Jones, general manager and trainer for Calumet, feels the same way about it, and one would swear that "Plain Ben" is just as intrigued at the prospect of watching his two firecrackers go at each other as are any of the thousands of fans pouring into the city. He has a leaning toward Citation.

"We know Citation was the best two-year-old we ever had," he says. "If either he or Coaltown takes the Derby and then goes on to take the triple we'll know he's the best horse we ever had. It ought to be a good race Saturday, sure enough."

Coaltown, who rates as the second barrel of the Calumet shotgun only because he was an ailing colt and never got to run as a two-year-old, ripped off his six furlongs this morning in 1:12 1/5—remarkable time considering the "deep" nature of the Downs track. Jones expressed keen satisfaction.

THE CITATION addicts expect their long-winded colt to trail Coaltown by up to three or four lengths in the early going, but to nail him in the stretch. A vote of visiting race writers so far shows Citation favored by about 3 to 1 over his stablemate, though today's terrific burst by Coaltown might easily bring a shift of sentiment.

As of today, the Downs management was listing six horses as virtually certain starters in the $100,000 added classic—Citation, Coaltown, My Request, Grandpere, Escadru and Billings. C. A. O'Neill's Galeado is a possibility if the Derby track is muddy, but Dixiana Stable's Shy Guy is not expected to go.

Big League Records Threatened With Season Only 10 Days Old

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Although it is only a little more than a week old, the 1948 major league baseball season already has presented the fans with numerous thrills, surprises and unusual occurrences.

One new record already has been set, another equaled and several old standards have come mighty close to toppling.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, in using 24 players against the New York Giants April 21, set a record of number of players used in a nine-inning game. The fourth baseman used in that contest by the Dodgers probably is another record, although such statistics never have been kept.

MAX WEST, back in the majors with the Pittsburgh Pirates, tied a National league mark by coaxing five bases on balls in a game against the Cincinnati Reds April 25.

Jimmy Foxx holds the major league record of six walks in a game. On the same day, Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians struck out five straight times, to come within one of the record set by Carl Weiland of the St. Louis Browns in 1913.

When Lou Boudreau of Cleveland batted out five hits April 26, four of them for extra bases, he came within one of tying the modern extra base hit record of five—set by himself two years ago.

Three players have swatted home runs with the bases full. They are Walker Cooper of the New York Giants, Tom McBride of Washington and Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh. Westlake, in his freshman season the past year, cracked two grand slam homers.

Westlake and Sauer each have driven in five runs in a game, but bow to Whitey Lockman of the Giants in that department. The hitter, but lost 1-0. Russ Meyer held the St. Louis Cardinals to one hit, but was nicked for a run in winning 3-1.

Oddly enough, two of the past year's five 20-game winners in the National league, have been unable to register their first victory this year. Johnny Sain of Boston and Ralph Branca have been driven from the mound twice in losing starts.

DETROIT ENDS LOSING STREAK, BEATS BROWNS

Mayo, Mullin and Evers Pace Attack in 9-4 Win; Trucks Winning Pitcher

ST. LOUIS, April 28 (AP)—Snapping a losing streak at five straight, the Detroit Tigers walloped St. Louis, 9-4, today and tumbled the Browns from second place in the big American league chase.

Eddie Mayo, Pat Mullin and Walter (Mojo) Evers sparked the Detroit attack, witnessed by a small crowd of 2182 which brought the total attendance for the three-game series to only 5552.

Mullin hit a home run, a double and a single, and Mayo had three singles. Evers drove in three of the runs with a three-bagger and an outfield fly.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks struck out seven in gaining credit for the victory but weakened in the eighth and was replaced by Paul (Dizzy) Trout. Al Gerhauser, kayoed in a four-run first inning, was the loser.

Mullin's homer to the right field pavilion roof came in the sixth inning with none on.

Roy Zimmerman Signs With Boston Yanks

BOSTON, April 28 (AP)—Quarterback Roy Zimmerman today signed a 1948 contract with the Boston Yanks, his fourth National Football league club.

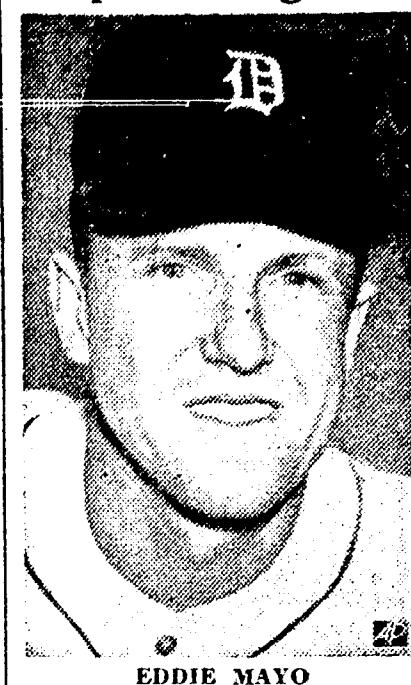

Zimmerman, a San Jose state product, broke into the league eight years ago with the Washington Redskins. He played for the Philadelphia Eagles for four seasons before being traded to the Detroit Lions. He came to the Yanks in a straight player swap for Johnny Grigas, former Holy Cross backfield star.

In the official league opener Monday, Trinity Reformed will meet St. James at 6:15 o'clock.

Following the regular season, the first four teams will meet in Shaughnessy playoffs for the league championship. The schedule:

200 Wrestlers Begin Fight for Olympic Berths

AMES, Ia., April 28 (AP)—More than 200 wrestlers tomorrow start the six-session grind that Saturday might will bring berths on the United States Olympic team to 16.

Physical examinations and weighing in of these grapplers, the country's top amateurs who have survived 17 different qualifying meets, are scheduled tomorrow morning.

First round matches will be held on four mats tomorrow afternoon. There will be afternoon and evening sessions throughout the three days of the trials.

CHAMPIONS will be plentiful for these final tests, and the luck of the pairing draw could put the two best men in any weight together in the first round.

Those eligible to try for a place on the Olympic team include the National AAU and NCAA champions in all eight Olympic weights.

Most of the field will be made up of college wrestlers, but the competitors will include some high school boys and some men to whom wrestling is merely a sideline activity. One of the greatest amateur wrestlers to appear here is a New York detective, Henry Wittenberg, seven times AAU champion in the 191-pound class.

These final trials will be governed by Olympic rules under which a wrestler is eliminated when he has five "bad points" scored against him. A fall counts three points, as do losses by unanimous 3-0 decisions. Two judges and a referee make the verdicts, zero is a perfect score.

ST. JAMES TO PRACTICE

The St. James baseball team, in preparation for its season's opener Monday night, will practice tomorrow night on Swinehart Field at five o'clock.

REACHES NEW HIGH

Penn State's Jack Biery topped his best previous basketball scoring record by collecting 260 points in 19 games this year.

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Mostly baseball: It's going to be harder to pick the last-place team in the National league than it is the pennant winner. All right, which team will finish last? All have good points and will be dangerous in any game. This uncertain life: The past Sunday Johnny McCall started for the Red Sox against the Yankees at The Stadium. Monday he was on his way to Louisville. McCall claimed he was stung on the finger by a bee while working out in the outfield at Boston. He was stung by the Yankees, too. At least he got his lumps.

Just-wait-until-the-pitchers catch-up-with-the-hitters department: In the recent Cleveland-White Sox game, won by the Indians, 12-11, in 14 innings, the two teams collected 37 hits for 68 bases. And in the first seven Dodgers games nine Brooklyn chukkers were nipped for 11 home runs. Nothing high hat about Bob Feller. How many pitchers of his status (name two in that category) would take their regular turn and then go in as relief to save games as Feller did in the 14th inning against the Chicks? He might have had a defeat on his record in pitching that one inning if he didn't have his stuff. That's really team spirit.

Russ Christopher didn't want to be a relief pitcher, so Connie Mack sold him to Cleveland. And what is Christopher doing? He's pitching in relief. Difficult to understand the fine start of the Washington Senators. Down South they looked like a team the cops would run off a corner lot. And they conducted their games the same way. In one game they had no bat boy, and the bats began accumulating all over the landscape, with the umpire refusing to touch them and the players themselves ignoring them wholeheartedly. Along about the fifth inning the Senators went on the field, and discovered they had no pitcher. Finally Sid Hudson stepped in. He had gone to the clubhouse to change his shirt.

After looking at the picture of Joe Louis supposedly having wood we're tempted to revise our idea he will make mincemeat of Jersey Joe Walcott when they meet again in June. Joe looked like he could play teeter-totter with an elephant, and keep jumbo up in the air. If he had a barrel of fun on his recent European jaunt, he must have swallowed the barrel. At any rate he's what generally is termed in fashionable circles as pleasantly plump.

Starter Ruby White Holds Most Important Derby Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28 (AP)—You can lead a horse to the gate, but you can't make him run.

Can't, that is, unless you know exactly how to treat the fellow. You have to know the horse and his mannerisms like you know your next-door neighbor. That is why Ruby White's job probably is the most important one in the entire operation of the Kentucky Derby. White is the starter, the man who springs the starting gate on a split-second's timing. A good start that is fair to all runners is essential.

White has had a hand in starting Derbies since 1925. He has been head starter since 1941, the year he got Whirlaway off to a record 2:01 2/5 for the mile and a quarter.

There isn't a tremendous difference in starting the Derby over any other race except that the presence of such a huge crowd makes the naturally nervous three-year-old a little more jittery. He is not accustomed to mobs on both sides of him like those that jam the Churchill Downs infield and stands.

BUT KNOWING the individual horses helps overcome even that big factor. And you have to take a station beside the veteran White to realize just how well he knows his geese.

Almost equally important, White knows his jockeys and they know him. They like him and trust him. His tips on how to handle their mounts in the gate are followed religiously.

From the time White starts the race before The Derby until post time for the big race itself he studies carefully his "ratings" on the Derby entries. "HK" for horse that kicks, "HL" for handle and load last, and "HB" for handle and back him in, for example.

His assistants are specialist at handling certain type horses.

"BILL, take that outside horse," he will instruct one man. "He'll lead in."

"Charley, you better take No. 3. "No T is yours, Ned, and watch and hold him till last."

of a college education. The Yankee Stadium was opened 25 years ago with the Red Sox meeting the Yankees, and Babe Ruth hitting a home run. The past Friday it was opened with the Red Sox again meeting the Yankees, only this time it was Ted Williams hitting the home run. Incidentally, the pitchers are pitching to Williams this year, with Vern Stephens or Stan Spence behind him, and he loves it. "I'll strike out sometimes," he admits, "but at least I can get a chance to hit." He drew 161 walks a year ago, a great many of them intentional. You can imagine Eddie Stanley's elation at his showing against the Dodgers the first time he faced his old teammates.

HE IS THE STARTER at Fair Grounds, Keeneland, Churchill Downs, Oaklawn, Lincoln Fields and Hawthorne. Those jobs leave him about two months a year to engage in his schooling work.

Starting races, he philosophizes, is a lot like baseball. "Some days everything rolls along perfectly," he said. "Other days you just can't do anything right. Brides break, horses run wild, jockeys are unseated—everything happens."

He figures he has started something like 5000 races.

BENNEVILLE CONRAD, 87, grandfather to 29 area residents and great-grandfather to 25, died early yesterday morning at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hatfield, POTTSTOWN RD 3, with whom he resided.

Mr. Conrad had been in failing health for two years and was confined to his home the past year.

He was born in Berks county and, for most of his adult life, was a worker on farms in the Pottstown area. Since his retirement and the death of his wife, Catherine (Houck) Conrad, 20 years ago, he had lived alternately at the homes of his six daughters and his son.

Mr. Conrad was a member of Hill church, Berks county.

Surviving in addition to the grandchildren and great-grandchildren are seven children: Emma, wife of Augustus Bush, Boyertown RD 2; Sallie, wife of Joseph Baker, Stowe; Ida, wife of Charles Garber, 707 Beech street; Stella, wife of Elias Eddinger, Temple, Berks county; Edna, wife of Chester Orrs, Elverson; Anna, wife of Walter Hatfield, Pottstown RD 3; and Jonathan, of Tipton, Berks county.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from a funeral home at 466 North Franklin street. Officiating will be the Rev. Luther L. Engel, pastor of Hill church. Interment will be made in Hill church cemetery.

ANTHONY TARCZYNSKI, 84, of 1103 SOUTH STREET, one of the founders of St. Peter's Catholic church, died in his home at 8:20 p. m. Tuesday night. He had been ill for the past two and one-half years.

Mr. Tarczynski helped establish the church, as well as the St. Peter's church lodge, in 1924, and was an active member of both organizations until he became ill.

Born in Poland, he came to this

Rhodes Nominated By 893-Vote Lead In Berks Primary

READING, April 28—Complete returns today from Berks county's primary election revealed George M. Rhodes, Pottsville labor leader, as the victor of the Democratic race for nomination for the House of Representatives with the closest of his four rivals 893 votes behind.

Rhodes, president of the Federated Trades council (AFL) and editor of the laborite New Era, amassed 3043 votes to Dr. Paul D. Good's 4130. Good is county coroner.

The three other contenders for the nomination to run against Republican Frederick A. Muhlenberg (incumbent) and Socialist Raymond S. Hofes in the November election were far behind.

Guy L. Moser, former congressman from Douglassville, had 2213; D. Herbert Spangler, Hamburg auto businessman, collected 1827 and Charles R. Sheidy, 32-year-old Reading lawyer, won 1657.

DESPITE THE congressional race and two other local Democratic struggles, yesterday's primary was the most inquisid the county has seen in years.

The result of the complete returns was no surprise. Early yesterday morning, with about half the precincts heard from, the labor leader led Good by about the same margin.

Early indications in the Republican presidential voting were contradicted by complete returns, however, with the county reversing the trend in the rest of the State by picking Thomas E. Dewey over Harold E. Stassen.

THE TWO OTHER tussles were for seats in the General Assembly. Winners of the two positions from the First (Reading) district were Albert S. Readinger, incumbent, and Andrew Kondrath, president of the Berks County Industrial council (CIO).

With 3116 and 2805 votes, respectively, they nosed out John C. Kubaki, with 2658, and Mark L. Powers, with 2516.

The other contest was for one seat from the Fourth district. Harold A. Yetzer, Muhlenberg township, got 1802 votes to put down Francis E. Shardin, Kutztown, who had 1026.

Dies Suddenly

TOM BRENEMAN

Originator of Novel Radio Show Victim Of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD, April 28 (AP)—Tom Breneman, jovial mastermind of one of radio's most popular shows, died unexpectedly today of a heart attack while guests were gathering for his broadcast.

The baby-faced, grey-haired master of ceremonies of "Breakfast in Hollywood" — who sold soap and cereal and brought laughs to an estimated 10,000,000 persons daily—succumbed at his Encino home a few minutes after breakfast. He was 47.

He retired last night, apparently in the best of health, although a few weeks ago he took a month's rest on doctor's orders.

Breneman was a showman unique in radio. He had been on the air off and on for more than 20 years, had virtually grown up with the industry, knew it from the standpoint of performer, announcer, station manager.

HE HAD A NEAT way of making his audience love his jokes. Sometimes almost insulting. He kissed old ladies, and they ate it up. Bald men happily accepted pink plastic combs. He ridiculed women's hats, donned the more extravagant chapeaux himself to the shrieks of delight from his audience.

The line was already forming for today's broadcast when Breneman's wife, the former actress Billie Dunn, heard a thud in the bedroom. She called a doctor, but Breneman was dead.

The program was transcribed a day in advance, and officials of the American Broadcasting company said yesterday's will never be heard.

A native of Waynesboro, Pa., he attended Columbia for a time. He started his "breakfast" shows at Sardi's restaurant here in 1941, expanded to nationwide broadcasts later that year, into a bigger restaurant in 1945 and a still larger one this year.

In addition to his widow, two children, Gloria, 19, and Tom Jr., 14, survive.

Hello, Gorgeous!

Come in...meet the glamour queen of the motor car world!

If Atlantic City were holding a beauty contest for automobiles this year, there'd be no question about the winner.

And it's beauty that's backed by brawn and brains. Its newly engineered chassis gives this Packard a safety, a rigidity, a glued-to-the-road stability new to this type of car. Its low-slung body is the quietest any Packard convertible ever had.

The new engines—whether the 145-h.p. Super or the 160-h.p. Custom—well, you have never known performance that could touch what they give you. And every ultra-smart interior appointment is what you would expect in the finest Packard ever built.

But come in, meet this dazzling darling. From the first glance, there'll be a new love in your life!
